

Young Musicians 2007

On Sunday 29th April 2007 three hundred and thirty-three young musicians descended on the Melton Theatre, Melton Mowbray and entertained a constantly changing audience to a fine selection of music; instrumental and vocal. There were choirs, soloists, trios on the piano and wonderful duets. The performances were enjoyed by all, competitors and audience alike.

Before the competition could take place there were back-stage jobs to be done by an army of volunteers, even for the chair of Rotary's National Youth Opportunities Committee (sweeping the stage was OK but handling complicated things like music stands was not allowed). Sheila Aston polished the Grand Piano, and tinkled on the ivories.

The adjudicator, Roy Abbey, watched and listened intently to all the pieces and had a word of encouragement for all. Tony Rifugiato held it all together as MC and District Governor Richard Hyde presented certificates to all participants. Overall section winners received their trophies from the DG and Mayor of Melton Councillor Ron Marks.
